Hi ladies,

Just wanted to tell you about my visit to Manchester on Saturday. I went again for a changeaway and had just the BEST time. It was wonderful, and again, that is down to the staff you had on duty. As I walked in, Debbie remembered me, saying "Hi Sophie....you staying with us today?", which was the perfect introduction. Both her and Eileen were just fantastic. They take real care and have a genuine interest in you, in your choice of outfit, and your make up. You could say that is what they are paid to do...true, but actually, they did seem to genuinely care, and really did welcome me as a woman into their female fold.

Eileen helped me pick my two outfits, listening and taking into account what I wanted, and advising me accordingly. Debbie then did expertly did my make up.

Then, once changed, both treated me as the woman I want to be. I literally was one of the girls for the duration of my stay. It was just wonderful, - truly magnificent. And my wonderful experience was down to their expertise and kindness.

It was FAB-U-LOUS!!

Can't wait for the next visit.

Dear Tracey

I feel I had to write this letter to extend my thanks to you personally for my experience on Tuesday 22nd February.

After plucking up courage the day before to enter the shop, I was made so welcome and comfortable the moment I entered the shop. Your professional attitude and empathy are a credit to you and I wish the world had more people like yourself to make people like myself feel more accepted in society.

Once I had gained confidence I made a purchase and agreed that I would return the next day for a Changeaway.

Upon arriving the next day I was greeted with the same enthusiasm by you as I was the day before. I then felt nervous again as there was another lady in the shop. I should have had no doubt that this lady (Christine) would show me the same respect as you. She is also a credit to your establishment.

The whole experience that I had over the next few hours felt so normal. This is solely down to your relaxed and empathetic manner.

As you know I have a very Plain Jane dress sense and you respected that and did not try to make me look like a Drag Queen. And how you gave me a waist I will never know, I have not had a waist since I was 16!!!!

Your knowledge on applying make-up made even me look special (in my opinion I am six foot tall, eighteen stone and look like a battered rugby player)

You made me feel so relaxed that I actually found myself chatting to you as if I had known you for years and telling you all about my secret life and I can honestly say I have never talked this candidly and openly with anybody other than my wife. Saying that, I don't think I have expressed myself so openly and been so frank as I was with you. Just like two sisters twittering on. You also made me feel so comfortable and convincing that I couldn't believe that I sat in the shop the whole time.

Please pass this on to your managers and feel free to use it as a testimonial if necessary.

Once again thank you so much for my experience with you. You are a credit to both your company and yourself.

Hope to see you next year.

Best wishes

Chris

Dear Angela,

I visited your shop on Wednesday and thought I would write to you to say how fabulous my experience was!

Approaching the shop I was really nervous as I had never been into your shop before as I had always ordered from the internet. The welcome I received was great. It was warm and friendly and most of all professionally courteous. You very quickly eased my nerves then you suggested trying a corset and Breast forms which eased my nerves AGAIN!!

All I will say is that, if it was not for your excellent customer service skills that made me feel so welcome and accepted, there is no way in the world I would have dressed in front of you and your colleague. As for what you did for me, well, I have never felt as sexy!!!

I will definitely be back into see you again very soon and I may just let you unlock the beauty within-well, just do your best with this great Lump!!!!

My only regret is that I didn't have those beautiful red shoes. I think the reason was is that I don't have anything that I can wear with them. However, to the left of the door there was a lovely red dress-I just hope you have my size??.

Anyway, I could go on all day heaping praise & good comments on you, but I suppose I must do some work today! You have helped me take the next step to dressing in public and I could live in your shop forever!! Many thanks!!

See you soon

Sally Anne xx

Dear Shaz and Tee

I feel I simply must write to you both regarding my recent visit to your Manchester salon last Wednesday afternoon (if indeed it is a "salon" for I do not quite know how to appropriately describe it!), a visit that initially filled me with acute trepidation. You'll probably never understand how nervous I was. I had to pluck up an inordinate amount of courage to even walk through the door.

Yes, upon entry, I felt more than a little discombobulated as I gazed at all before me, wondering what on Earth had led me to such an emporium. "Fish out of water" is a figure of speech that doesn't even begin to describe my initial unease! How alarm bells rang!!

However, had it not been for your warm, understanding, hospitable and welcoming nature, I would probably have made a bee-line for the nearest exit! I imagine I'm not your first client (upon their first visit) who's shared such feelings of apprehension. Isn't it amazing what a hot cuppa can do to relax one's nerves (not to mention prescribed medication!).

Yes, with your reassurances and kind words, I stayed and underwent a transformation (changeaway) into a vision that I could hardly upon opening my eyes believe. "Nicola" (nice name Tee) was far more than I could have expected. I've always thought that my "feminine self" would look absolutely ridiculous, like some kind of drag-queen from my deepest, darkest nightmares; on the contrary, she turned out to be the epitome of taste and elegance, even though her face was cosmetically, heavily made-up whilst wearing sexy, tarty attire! Now it's left her wondering what she would look like if she were "dressed to the nines" wearing evening finery, as if she were cinderella herself, going to the Ball.

When Shaz and I started chatting, she asked me what made me decide to initially do something like this. I can recall replying that I was merely curious as to how I'd look if dressed in such a manner. That's true, I have been a little curious since watching crossdresser celebs and TV shows re this slightly taboo subject (if it is even still regarded as taboo), wondering how certain men can "effortlessly" look so feminine whereas others well let's go no further.

Perhaps it's simply nothing more than genetics; an attractive person is just so, no matter how he or she dresses. Does that hypothesis make sense to you? Sure, some people's sheer androgyny can make it very difficult (not to mention awkward) to guess their gender when faced with such souls, I'll be damned if I'm gonna ask whether they're male or female.

Apologies for my digression! I can also remember Shaz adding (possibly quite prophetically) when she asked if I'd return, that many do, even those who think they won't as they'd like to realise their female manifestation once more. I too have been giving this some thought, something that I was convinced would not occur to me once I had taken my leave.

I know I can speak for Nicola in saying that she'd like to return (sooner rather than later) as there is much she wishes to discover, not only about the way she looks but indeed, the very essence of who she actually is. In this area, I'm out of my depth as I simply don't have the answers but I do know this: Nicola can only ever "be" whilst in the company of such lovely ladies as yourselves!

With affection

Many thanks for your help recently. As you now know I visited your shop unexpectedly yesterday as I realised I couldn't make next week after all and what an amazing experience it turned out to be.

I don't think I was ever made to feel so welcome in a shop before, it felt like more of a spiritual event than a shopping expedition; many, many thanks to Samantha & Karitas. I left your shop feeling freed from decades of suppressed emotion and truly I haven't felt so good about myself in many a year.

If anybody who has only ever cross dressed on their own before and has any doubts about making such a step by visiting such an establishment (and believe me I can understand) just try it otherwise you'll never know what you have missed.

Once again thank you to Samantha & Karitas for making it such a special day.

Steve

On Monday (16th) I gave myself a treat by spending a day out, and just over Â£400, at your branch in Manchester.

It is a pleasure to tell you just how helpful and kind both Beverley and Samantha were, Beverley paying particular attention to my needs, and also to tell you how much they both contributed to my enjoyment of my time there. Please pass on my grateful thanks for their time and attention!

My only regret is that I could not stay any longer than I did as it took me over three hours to get there and roughly the same time to return to my home near Southampton.

Highest regards

Dawn

Hi,

I came in to visit the Manchester store today, and purchased my first Lingerie that I did not have to pretend was for my girlfriend! At first I was nervous, no more like sick with terror! Everyone seemed to be looking at me, did they know? At one point I was convince a dog was giving me a strange look... did he know! I waked past five times before I went through the door. at ounce I was put at ease, by the wonderful staff, but also because the ground did not open up and swallow me!

The feeling of looking through skirts and bras and not be looked at like a total pervert by teenage girls was wonderful and a total release. I purchased the Britney Bra set as it is so cute! The information pack was a nice touch. I have leave in April and I will be returning to try the changing service.

I will be counting the days till I return,

Yours Becky.

Yesterday, I visited your shop and had one of the most fantastic experiences of my life, thanks to Shirley. This was my first-ever visit and my first ever Changeaway.

Â

I arrived just before 11 o'clock and Shirley was in the shop. Her sixth sense came into play instantly, as she knew I was self-conscious and sensed I was also confused. She sat me down on the sofa, "magicked" a cup of coffee and asked quite a lot of very discreetly worded questions. The result was that she put me very much at ease (not completely, but that was down to me, not her) and established, out of her questions, a look that would suit me - I had no real idea except that I didn't want to look tarty, because this was not a joke to me.

Shirley selected a breast size, measured me, selected a pair of suitable shoes, guided me on an ideal pair of panties (I wore them today all day) and off we went. She left me to strip down to underwear then came back and started work. With a suitable corset, she whittled eight inches off my waist, fitted my bra and breasts (fantastic - if only they had been real!) and made an elegant woman of me. She did a fantastic job - my face was the only bit I wasn't entirely comfortable with, but Shirley could only work with what she had!

Here's the fantastic part of it all - when she had finished, Shirley walked round me and then looked me in the eye and said: "You look fabulous". And I thought she was right - but it was she who had made this fabulous transformation - and by saying what she did so spontaneously gave me a massive confidence boost. It has given me the resolve that this will not be my last visit.

I had a particularly difficult psychological obstacle to overcome and almost without my realising it, Shirley led me through it to perform true magic. Not only did I look fantastic, I felt fantastic. I sat in the lounge for quite a while, getting used to this new me, read a few magazines, learned how to sit from what I read and I loved it.

Shirley, you are a marvel and I'm looking forward very much to my next visit and experiencing you working your wonders again.

Thankyou so much - and thankyou Transformations for being there.

Love, Sarah

I want to thank you. my last order was complete and on time like every order i placed. the three gifts were perfect. i will make use of them throughout my transformation. they are needed essentials for the m/f transformation. i will put them to the test when i go out to clubs and concerts. when i started transformation at first, i was very uncomfortable. now, i look forward to face the world. i am no longer a closet dresser.

love Martha

hi girls i want to thank you all for my purchases my new breasts alice dress ankle boots etc i now have everthing that i need to be a complete woman thank you all love Carol from Manchester

I'm just emailing to say that the creams arrived early this afternoon and I've already had my first session with them. Here's hoping that I'm able to see some results in the near future. If you like, I'll keep you posted.

Can I say once again a very big thank you and how very pleased I am with your service, your promptness in responding to emails, the speedy overnight delivery and for your very kind and discrete help when I called. It is all very much appreciated indeed and I'll certainly have no hesitation in contacting you again by phone.

Very many thanks again and my kindest regards.
